THE ADVENTURES OF THE WEIRD MAN

Once upon a weird time, there was a weird man who did weird stuff. He gathered his family band, and went to capture an elephant. But when he got there, the elephant turned into a rocket ship, and his family band turned into dolphins that bit the man's eyelashes non-stop. He screamed in pain and stumbled into a pig. The pig squealed, which attracted a rocket ship. The rocket ship exploded into a million pieces that smelled like Clorox, but the weird man didn't like Clorox, so he ran away screaming, and that's how the world started ending.

The weird man was running and smacked into a tree. The tree turned around and screamed at him. After he was admonished, the weird man farted, and it made him laugh. The fart was so powerful that the whole world exploded, which propelled the weird man into space and he landed on Mars. The Martians kidnapped him and took him to their evil lair, where they strapped him up to a torture machine. The torture machine tickled him, which was his worst fear. It tickled him so hard that he barfed up barbeque sauce. Then the Martians turned into mice, and the mice chewed the cord, setting the man free. The weird man filled the planet with TNT and said, "Im'a firen ma lazaar. Bwaaaaaaah...." Then he shot a laser out of his mouth, and the laser ignited the TNT, and the planet blew up.

He was shot out into space again, and got caught in an asteroid belt, and was knocked unconscious. When he regained consciousness, he flew to Venus, but it was too cold there, so he left and traveled on toward Uranus. When he arrived, he flew into the butt hole of Uranus. He hid in there for a while, but the whole planet started shaking, and he was flung out into a giant swirly white thing. Of course, the only thing that could be a swirly white thing was the Milky Way. Two days later, the Milky Way Martians brought him milk & cookies to eat, which he loved.

Next, he flew to a nearby planet called Bliblublah, aka, "The Random Planet". Once he landed, he realized the planet was deserted. Then the planet started splitting in half, and he fell into complete darkness. He hit his head and woke up to a bunch of robots surrounding him. He beat them up and all the robots were destroyed. After that, the weird man read the "Holy Bible". He got really excited and glued himself to the bottom of a 10ft pool. The glue turned into maggots, and the maggots turned into flies, and the universe exploded.

THE TALES OF LEXI THE WATER FAIRY

Once upon a time there was a fairy named Lexi, Lexi is a water fairy and she gets her powers from water. One day when Lexi was flying around in the woods near her house, she saw a new path that she had never seen before and she started to fly down it. When she got to the end of the path, she saw a huge, beautiful castle with many turrets, a big fountain in front of it and lots of Pegasi flying around the castle. Then she saw two people walk out of the castle and went over to them to introduce herself.

“Hi, I’m Lexi, what are your names?” Lexi said with excitement.

“I’m Princess Annabel,” said Annabel.

“And I’m Princess Skylar,” Skylar added.

“Welcome to our castle,” said Annabel.

“Wow, you two have such a beautiful castle,” said Lexi.

“Thank you,” said Skylar. “Would you like to come in?” she added.

“I’d love to!” said Lexi.

Lexi, Skylar and Annabel walked into the castle. As they walk in, Lexi’s mouth drops from all the colors in the room and the huge chandelier on the ceiling.

“Wow!” Lexi said amazed. “This place is so awesome and epic!” she adds.

“Thanks” Annabel and Skylar say in unison.

“Would you like the tour?” Skylar asks.

“Yes please!” Lexi says nodding her head.

As they walk around the castle, Lexi tries to keep her mouth closed but she can’t because everything is too cool and impressive and every room, they walk through is better than the next. When the tour is over, they hangout in the living room to get to know each other better.

"I have so many questions! How long have you lived here? How long has this castle and that path been here? Are you sisters or a couple? How long have you had Pegasi?" asked Lexi.

"We've lived here and this castle and the path have been here forever," said Skylar.

"We've also had Pegasi forever and we're a couple," said Annabel.

"Cool, how come I've never seen the path until today?" Lexi asked.

"Because it usually stays hidden with a magic force field so that no evil beings can get in," said Skylar.

"Then why was it open for me?" Lexi asked.

"Because we were lonely and wanted someone to hangout with," said Annabel.

"And we've always wanted to meet a fairy," said Skylar.

"Cool, so what do you guys do for fun around here?" Lexi asked.

"We swim in the pool in the backyard and we ride on our Pegasi and sometimes we will go for walks in the woods," said Annabel.

"Cool, I've never ridden a Pegasus before, but I guess I don't need to because I have wings and I love pools and hanging out in the woods," said Lexi.

After a couple of hours of chilling, the three decide to go walking in the woods. But, as they are leaving the castle, Skylar has a better idea.

"Hey guys," Skylar says. "We should go flying and explore the skies instead!"

"That's a great idea!" said Annabel. "Let's go!" she adds.

Annabel and Skylar get their favorite Pegasi, Winter for Skylar and Snowdrop for Annabel. Then the three new friends start flying away and go up into the clouds. When they get to the top of the clouds, they discover a whole new world full of gods and goddesses. While they're flying around in this new world, they see a big path and fly down it. At the end of the path, there is a huge castle that enamors them and they try going in. When they get to the front door, Angela, the goddess of weather, comes out of the castle and she isn't happy.

"Who has come to my castle and disrupted me from my job!" she bellows.

"Hi miss, I'm Lexi the water fairy and these are princesses Annabel and Skylar," Lexi says in a scared voice.

"We're sorry we have disrupted your work," Skylar said timidly.

"Well, I'm very busy with work so please leave me alone and go see another god or goddess!" Angela shouts in an angry voice. Angela then slams the door in their faces, not realizing that the door does not fully close.

"We're so sorry we bothered you," Lexi says softly.

"It's our first time here and we saw a path that led us to your castle," Skylar adds.

"What is your job, miss?" Lexi asks nervously.

"I'm Angela, the goddess of weather!" Angela bellows while opening the door. "I control the weather all over the world!" she adds.

"Wow! That's so cool!" Lexi squeals with excitement. "Can we see where you work?"

“No you can’t see where I work!” Angela shouts angrily. “If you want to see my work, then go back down to Earth and look up at the weather! Now if you’ll excuse me, I need to get back to work immediately!” Angela storms away and shuts the door again.

In a quiet and calming voice Skylar whispers through the door, “We are very sorry, we just wanted to make a new friend.”

“We understand that you’re very busy and need to keep working,” Annabel adds softly.

Angela hears the girls, sighs and decides to come out again. “You girls are sweet! No one ever comes up here because they’re all scared of me. But you folk are so friendly and endearing,” Angela admits.

“Aw thank you,” Lexi says happily. “We will be your friends and will come by whenever we can.”

“That’s so nice, thank you,” Angela says smiling. “And I’m sorry for getting so mad before, I’m not around people very often so I’m still getting used to how to interact with others,” she adds in a calm tone.

“That’s cool, we understand.” Lexi says.

A few minutes later after Angela thinks about it, she invites the others in and shows them how her job works. Then Skylar has an idea.

“Hey guys!” Skylar squeals “We should go to Earth so Angela can see the weather she’s created in action!”

Everyone agrees and they go down to Earth. When they get to Earth, Angela squeals as she witnesses rain for the first time.

“Wow! I love the rain so much! This is so much fun!” Angela shouts in excitement.

“If you want to see something really cool with water, watch this.” Lexi says as she shows everyone her powers. Lexi makes a big water slide with loop-de-loops out of water and Skylar and Annabel have a blast. But when Angela goes upside down on the loop-de-loop, Skylar and Annabel are shocked at what happens. When Angela gets off the slide, she notices Skylar and Annabel and is perplexed on why they look so shocked. Then Lexi comes over to them after she puts back the water she used.

“Hey guys, what’s up? And why do you too look so shocked?” Lexi asks. Skylar points at sky, then Angela and Lexi look up and are in awe with what they see. In the sky, the rain is going up instead of coming down. As they’re looking, they wonder how this happened.

“When I was upside down on Lexi’s water slide, her powers must have messed with my powers somehow, which made this happen.” Angela says realizing what happened.

“So how do we fix it?” Annabel asks.

“I don’t know, this has never happened before.” Lexi says.

“Ooh, I know!” Said Skylar, “If Lexi makes another water slide and Angela goes on it backwards, then maybe the rain will come back down.” She adds.

“Ok let’s try it.” Lexi says. Then Lexi makes another water slide and Angela goes on it backwards. As Angela goes backwards on the loop-de-loop, the rain starts falling down again.

“Hooray! It worked!” Skylar shouts with joy.

“Well this has been a wonderful day! But I should get back to work soon” Angela says.

“Yah we should get going too” says Annabel.

“Me too.” Lexi says, “I can’t wait to see you all again soon!” Then everyone goes home and can’t wait for their next adventures together.
